THE SECRET OF THE SAUCERS: by Orfeo M. AngelucciAmherst Press. 167 pgs. 1955.

Please order from publishers, mentioning this review.

In our Clips & Quotes D-7, of April 1, 1955, we devoted several pages to a new book called The Case for the UFO, selecting chiefly such short quotations as were in basic and important agreement with the "4-D" or Etheric interpretation, advanced by the Probert Controls in the fall of 1946, and successfully maintained by them and by us since that time. This is not 'orthodox' book reviewing (if there be such a thing), but the importance of the thesis concerned is abundant justification for a specialized approach.

For identical reasons I make a similar approach to this newly published book by Orfeo Angelucci, who has become widely known among devotees of the "Saucer Mystery". I am chiefly interested in his basic if unintentional support of the Etheric interpretation - most of which, incidentally, comes from the Space People themselves, according to the narrative. The book makes an excellent impression of sincerity, although it might gain (in my own opinion) by the omission of pages 84-113 (My Awakening on Another Planet) - and certainly should be read with attention and respect. But I now turn to a few quotes and semi-quotes:

'The voice also stated that the Etheric entities in reality had no need of spacecraft of any type and employed them only for purposes of material manifestation to men.' (pg.10)

'Interplanetary ships and Saucers of various material densities can approximate the speed of light. This seems impossible to you only because of a natural principle you have not yet discovered . . . Approaching the speed of flight, the Time dimension as known upon earth becomes non-existent, hence in this comparatively new dimension there are incredibly rapid means of space travel which are beyond man's comprehension (p.11)

'Many of the saucers, of highly attenuated densities, were invisible and could only be detected by radar. Any of the saucers could be rendered invisible at any time, or could be disintegrated by either explosion or implosion. Some seem to burst in a flash while others seem simply to vanish in the air (11)

'Captain Mantell was trying to overtake one of the remotely controlled Discs. His death was absolutely unavoidable.(12)

'Visitors from other planets occasionally visit earth's atmosphere. All are of kindly intent. It is best to approach them with friendly, welcoming thoughts. . . Cosmic law prevents one planet from interfering with the evolution of any other. . It is because the life evolution in its present stage of material advancement is endangered that we have made our reappearance. The danger is far greater than earth people realize. The "enemy" prepares in vast numbers and in secret... We are earth's older brothers, and will aid earth's people so far as they will permit us to do so. (13). . . Primarily we function in dimensions unknown to man and hence interpret all things differently . . . Also there are cosmic laws as implacable as the natural laws of earth (12). . . Many of the evolutionary life forms in the universe are rather similar to man in appearance (13).

(The ship) 'resembled a dirigible except that it was definitely flattened at the bottom. . . It did not appear to be metallic, but was definitely crystalline and gave the illusion of transparency. Its light properties definitely suggested perfect crystal alloyed throughout. I surmised it might be some sort of crystal-metal-plastic combination... It appeared to be at least 1000 feet long and about 90 ft. thick, but could have been a great deal larger' (26)

(There are many references to this quality of transparency and to the changes back and forth into visibility - all of which bears out our insistence that nearly all of the larger aeroforms are MUTANTS - and this in turn makes it clear that they are NOT composed of matter as we commonly use the term, but of etheric substance, and controlled by forces unfamiliar to us. It is strange that this obvious and striking characteristic of the Aeroforms has been so consistently ignored).

"If you had been physically in robust health and perfectly attuned to the lowered vibrations of earth, we could not have manifested to you" (27). (The "Voice" speaking to Angelucci. It has been suspected by many, that the aeroforms were sometimes visible to one person and not to another - a psychic factor being involved in some cases).

* "Yes, war will come again to your earth. We are powerless to prevent it... The * *hour of travail which in future history shall be known as The Great Accident is * nearer than any man dreams. And already the clouds of war are on the horizon" (46).

(The terms ACCIDENT, and THE GREAT ACCIDENT are here introduced into the picture for the first time. And an implication seems to be, that this Accident is an event other than the war itself. This hint, and the alleged imminence of the Great Accident, may be of very great importance. A second reference is quoted below - an Etherian speaking to O.A.)

* "I tell you this: The Great Accident is very close and the fury of the next war * *will break when it is least expected; when men are talking of peace. I cannot say * *more." (49). *

(Mat and demat): 'The gist of the message was: "The last time you saw me I was in a less objectified projection, the purpose being to give you some idea of our true aspect. But now tonight you see me fully objectified ... I am no half-phantom but can move among men as an Earthman - you know now that we can appear and function as human beings." (56).

(The author recites numerous instances of sudden and total disappearance of 'planes' or objects at first believed such. The data suggest that this may take place by the object becoming transparent, or by some similar conversion of energy rates; its tangibility while invisible cannot be predicted, but would be quite plausible and logical under the etheric interpretation of those phenomena. All this too is quite in accord with the theory of EMERGENCE, since a "complete" change in vibratory rates would be equivalent to a change in space-time location).

The author also states (pg.74): "I do not believe the ships dissolve into nothingness. They may give the illusion of complete transparency, or, if so controlled, they can be rendered entirely opaque -- they can manifest any colour or combination of colours. . It is no problem for the crystal Discs to project visual images of ordinary aircraft and produce the auditory vibrations of aircraft engines. These project(ions

(The next to last sentence above ("it is no problem, etc.), like the phrase "The Great Accident", introduces a novel and disturbing element into the world situation.)

Apr. 15, 1955

(Since the very word Etheric is avoided or disputed by many - partly under the idea that the whole concept of the Ethers is outmoded and discarded by the scientific world, it may be worth while to point to its continued use by the Entities themselves, by M.K. Jossup, by numerous scientists whose names I have often printed - and to the fact that there is no suitable alternative. The word DENSITY or DENSITIES, however, is used by some of the "Communicators", & those who cannot tolerate the Ethers may perhaps take comfort in this substitute).

In connection with the foregoing paragraph, consider the following statement by an Entity "on a planetoid of the shattered planet Lucifer" (pg. 100) (This locale cannot, of course, be substantiated).

"It's all a matter of the scale of vibration in which you are functioning. The vibratory rate of dense matter which makes up the planet Earth is extremely low, hence earthly bodies are dense and sluggish. Vibratory rates here are quite high and matter so tenuous that it would seem non-existent were you in a dense physical body. Because you are now in a body of a corresponding vibratory rate, the phenomena of this world are as real to you as your earth world." (93)

(Earth matter does have a low vibratory rate; but it is not dense, but a rarefaction. Etheric matter does have a high vibratory rate, and tenuous means subtle, not dense, fluidic. This is, at best, a very loose and conversational use of terms. In physics, Density is described as (1) electron D., (2) energy D., (3) mass D. (4) grain D., (5) vibration D. The ordinary text book definition defines D. as "quantity of matter per unit volume". Unless a preliminary definition is agreed upon, discussion of density is useless). *

The general principle invoked, is, however, obviously sound and familiar to all occult thinkers: 'you ARE wherever your consciousness is - wherever your awareness is 'tuned in'. Position or location changes with change of awareness - which equates with a change of environment' etc.)

"Time is a dimension, as your scientists now correctly surmise - but only when applied to the various densities of matter. In non-material states of consciousness time is non-existent ..." (98).

"Our Discs are essentially etheric; that is, non-material - controlled in such a way that they can almost instantly attract substance to take on any degree of material density necessary. Various other types of craft are permitted to visit earth for certain purposes. These are from other worlds and also space islands of various densities of matter. Some are on the borderland between materiality and non-materiality. All are on a mission of love to the Dark World . . . (103).

"We do not say that there are no negatives in the universe who have not attained primitive modes of space travel, but at present earth is protected from these by both cosmic law and the Etheric hosts. (103)

"The discs, like the planets, are round, suspended in ether, propelled by ether waves and magnetic light from system to system (134). "Many entities of the various worlds have discovered the basic principles of the universe and have been enabled to travel in the various solar systems. They respect the rights of all worlds and of all individuals. (135).

* Assoc. Lindley Murrey, in RR X-4, Nov.-Dec. '54, pg. 16
(All italics are mine. ML)

"Since a crystal disc may be as small as two inches in diameter and Pg.4
can penetrate material densities, a disc may be present in a room at any time and may or may not be visible. In darkness they sometimes appear as softly glowing lights which appear and vanish suddenly (146)."

(Such discs are under remote control, a kind of synthetic brain that 'reads' and reports its environment to the control ship. They "penetrate material densities" because the latter are less dense than the etheric matter. The statement here is much more exact than that quoted on Pg. 3 of this issue (para.3).

'Any of the (8) types of extra-terrestrial craft so far observed within our atmosphere' "may be flatly opaque, or may instantly be rendered so transparent that the best mortal vision cannot see them. They are most active when they are invisible...
 They photograph and record words, thoughts and deeds . . . silent observers and recorders of all". (152)

(Here again the mutational character of the UFO is emphasized - something which has long been open to observation, and should have disposed of the absurd notion that these objects are 'tooled up' in Venusian or Martian plants and factories and made out of metals and fabrics which we call material).

"Among the etheric beings, however, it is possible to create a saucer of any degree of materiality merely from a projected thought-form which attracts material substance to it. (157). . . " The secret of changing visibility is in control of the lattice structure of the crystalline substance -- there is "remote control by complete vector" which holds the disc as in a vise ... The UFO does not carry tons of lead shielding against cosmic radiation; the cosmic rays are rendered unstable and shattered by the magnetic field around the ship ...' (154 f)

All of these statements have been made, in varying ways, by the Probert Controls, in years past - not excluding the concept that many of the great etheric craft are essentially chakras of living force, i.e., projected thought-forms, much as a man's body is also a projection of his mind materialized in our 3-dimensional matter.

"If the space visitors have enshrouded their presence in mystery, it is not from any desire to be mysterious, but only because we are not sufficiently mature to bear the impact of the full revelation of even the least of them." (166)

"The days that are to come upon Earth are known to me" (Etherian speaking to O.A.)
 "This I can tell you: the hour of tragedy is close upon earth. In history it will be known as The Great Accident. Wide devastation and the death of many will result from it. Perhaps you can guess how man himself will be the direct cause of the Great Accident." (123).

The editing of this book betrays a very sophisticated hand. It would, in my opinion, have been more effective with critically disposed readers if the emotional reactions of the author had been kept at a minimum. That is not to say, of course, that they are spurious on his part, or the result of window-dressing by the well - known editor - but only that the sentimentalism will strike the wrong note with many readers. But then, it will doubtless appeal to many others. We recommend The Secret of the Saucers as worthy of most attentive reading.

CORROBORATION

(Excerpts from letter by Associate Gilbert Ryan of Palmdale, Calif., to the BSR Director):

Fred Hoyle - and Ramond Natalli - Astronomers

Fred Hoyle, astronomer, eloquent spokesman for many of today's astrophysicists, Instructor at Cambridge and Senior Fellow at St. John's College, now verifies exactly what Ramon Natalli said long ago in the MAGIC BAG regarding the sun. Julian Huxley is also in agreement. I quote from The Nature of the Universe, a Mentor book, now 35¢ on most magazine shelves; pg 60 ff.

"As the Sun and some hot stars drift like this through the stellar gas they tend to pick up more of it. The rate at which it attracts the gas and the way it picks it up can be studied mathematically. It turns out that the gravitational field of the star pulls in gas from far and wide, and as the star moves through the gas it sweeps up the material lying in a huge tunnel. Perhaps this is the first time you have heard of this."

Never heard of it before!! We of the Borderland Sciences have been reading it for a long, long time. Our revenant friend Ramon Natalli, of the Inner Circle of the Mark Probert Controls, first stated this concept of the 'gas tunnels'. To quote a little further from the Mentor book:

"Littleton, Bondi, and I think that the sun certainly is sweeping up gas. If you look at the sun under normal conditions - for instance at sunset - it appears to have a sharply defined edge. This is part of the surface that radiates most of the light and heat. Now, during a total eclipse of the sun you also see a point of delicate outer atmosphere with two parts. The much more extensive outer part is called the Corona.

"In the total solar eclipse of 1878, streamers in the Corona were observed to stretch as far as as five million miles from the Sun. These were simply captured interstellar gas falling into the sun. They had the appearance of gigantic flames because they were made visible by the power of the Sun's rays. . ."

BSR Associates who read this book will find that it deviates but little from our own original Magic Bag, and even gingerly steps over the border a bit where the BSR information begins.

(The Nature of the Universe is a reprint of the original edition published by Harper & Bros., .35)

NOTE: It was, I believe, in 1950 that a series of five articles by Mr. Fred Hoyle, entitled The Nature of the Universe, appeared in an American magazine (Harper's ?). From these I prepared a series of questions concerning the basic problems and views of contemporary astronomers, and submitted them to Natalli (an astronomer contemporary with Shakespeare who has continued his studies on the "other side". As I now recall, Natalli's replies were devastating to most modern concepts in that field of science. At least I can recall accurately the final exchange:

Natalli: Well, have you any more questions?

M.L. No, thank you, Natalli - not at this time.

Natalli: Well, anyhow, we gave them a good dusting off, didn't we?

M.L. You certainly did, sir.

CLIPS & QUOTES - NO COMMENTS (Maybe)"ATOMIC (?) CLOUD Off Coast of Mexico:"

Los Angeles, July 8, UP: Sailors of a French line ship told Thursday of seeing a mysterious mushroom cloud, much like that which rolls up from an atomic explosion, above the Pacific Ocean off the coast of Mexico. Captain Olni and First Officer Wilbert said ... they had watched for more than an hour the strange 'atomic-like' cloud.

Both officers, veterans of sailing the seas, said they never had seen anything like the awesome sight before. "It looked just like all the pictures of atomic bomb explosions," Capt. Olni said. "We watched the huge white billow extending high into the sky, followed by a grayish mushroom stem."

The ship spotted the cloud while cruising some 17 miles off the coast of Ensenada, Baja California. Capt. Olni said it seemed unlikely the cloud was a weather phenomenon, inasmuch as "the rest of the sky was perfectly clear at the time". Both officers said they saw no flash nor heard any explosion.

ANGELS OVER NEW YORK STATE?

Two dead elephants washed ashore on a New Zealand beach are puzzling local inhabitants. No elephants are missing from the New Zealand zoos and the nearest land, Australia, is 1200 miles away across the Tasman Sea. (San Diego Tribune, 4-9-55.

Now that the gray cobwebby substance that fell over a half-mile square area in Horseheads, N.Y., has been 'identified after exhaustive tests' by a chemistry professor as 'heavily damaged cotton fiber', it seems time to repeat a warning recently received from an (alleged) Etherian, about the so-called Angel Hair. "This stuff" (says he) is released into the air by some of the "Saucers" to counteract certain harmful elements - I mean harmful to Etherians - but it is also dangerous to you if handled. No, the green stain is NOT copper. Do not handle the stuff at all.

After this bait to the curious we should add: when you do get inquisitive, pick up the stuff with a stick, preferably wrapped in a black cloth. No, I don't know why - but one way to find out might be to neglect this precaution.

C.R.I.F.O NEWSLETTER for April 1, '55 has an admirable summary of recent facts and opinions from scientific sources concerning vegetable and possible animal life on Mars. There is also said to be a 'small probability' that some form of intelligent life could exist there. There are also sections of the article dealing with green fireballs in various parts of the world, other remarkable luminous phenomena, and the appearance of Saucers over the Pacific.

Newsletter is published at 1017 Britton Ave., Cincinnati 27, Ohio. Editor, L.H. Stringfield, Monthly; $3.00 per year. - Recommended.

FLYING SAUCER REVIEW. (Vol. I, No. 1) Quarterly: Edited by Derek

D. Dempster. Pub. at 1 Doughty St., W.C.1. 14 pgs., $7\frac{1}{2} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ "; illustrated, slick paper. The announcement describes the REVIEW as "the first properly printed published magazine on Saucers. A note from Desmond Leslie, to the CQC Editor, indicates Mr. Leslie's connection with the project and states that "the whole thing is going to be put on a very factual and reliable basis. Annual subscription: One Guinea (one pound one shilling) or equivalent in foreign currency (inquire at your post-office).

The editorial page of this first issue states that its object is: "To obtain & analyze as many reports and photographs as possible and to publish those considered authentic and important . . . Our task is, to use every means available to find a solution to the Flying Saucer mystery. . . We do not claim to know where the Saucers originate, although there is plenty to suggest that they come from outer space." Headings of articles include the following:

Week-End Pilot in Near Collision with Saucer -- Down-to-Earth Paper Accepts Saucers -- Radio Star Puzzled -- American Letter -- Impossible! Possible! Fact! -- Mystery Over Labrador -- Testimony of the Experts -- The Near Approach of Mars -- How It All Began. . .

It is my hope, even expectation, that the 'weeding out' process referred to by one of the contributors will not exhaust the activities of the REVIEW. New magazines devoted to 'Saucer' material are appearing at a rate of about one a week, and one and all promise faithfully to be weeder-outers of high degree. Sightings and "phenomena" are reported by the hundreds - and so it has been for a long time. All this material is virgin and barren of offspring so far as interpretation goes. OH's and AH's aplenty - but no answers to what, whence, how, and why. And so it has been for a long time. Only (or almost only) the BSRA have had something to say - almost unlistened-to - and this too for a long time. Some nine years, in fact. But lately we are beginning, as the patois has it, to 'get the breaks'. Consider the heresies of astronomer Jessup, who maybe never heard of the BSR but comes out right along-side of us anyway. So . . .

SO, we hope, expect and believe that the new REVIEW will find, not only incredible facts to verify and record, but a worthwhile thesis to defend and a valid concept to expound. Something that makes 'good' science and 'good' metaphysics, and 'saves' all the data. When this occurs it will be a noteworthy event, and BSR Hdqrs will buy a new door mat, the largest to be had anywhere, with the word WELCOME on it in big letters - biggest to be found anywhere.

SHEPPARTON THREADS - or, Angel Hair, Preliminary Analysis: Australian Flying Saucer Bureau (& Magazine):

In October 1954, substance was pure white, silky, odorless, warm, not sticky. Uniform threads of very fine type: disintegrates slowly in air. Not sol. in water. Sol. in strong caustic soda. Burns rapidly leaving no smell or ash (unlike wool, cotton, silk or cobwebs). Threads are dry and stretch easily at the ends. An important characteristic is the length of the original strands coming down from the sky - average length 30 ft. (Andrew P. Tomas in AFS Mag.)

"Jokes aside, let us think more of the stars. Let us all become children of Heaven. Let us dream of an Utopia where there are no wars - but before we see it a red sign will flash in the skies: "Tighten your belts." As Ripley says, 'Believe it or not' but we are heading for a planetary crash."

"We Come In Peace"-- (a 53-page booklet: by Franklin Thomas, New Age Publishing Co., 1542 Glendale Blvd., Los Angeles 26, Calif. Has "A Martian Lands In Austria" as by-line. The actual "message" of the "Martian" occupies less than three pages, but the booklet is exceptionally well written, with a strong leaven of commonsense. Attractively bound, (paper). (Recommended.)--Order from publisher. $1.00

In "Clips and Quotes" D-8 (April 15, 1955) we 'reviewed' "The Secret Of The Saucers", by Orfeo Angelucci; and in D-7, "The Case For The U.F.O.", by M.K. Jessup--and the word reviewed goes in quote marks because 'commented on' would be better. The attempt was only to show in what important ways these two books agreed with the "4-D" or "Etheric" interpretation, consistently advanced by the BSRA for more than eight years past, and received originally from the Mark Probert Controls. The acceptances into which the world is now moving, in short, have been before us in explicit language since 1946. Those who care to verify this will do well to examine the BSR publication, "The Coming Of The Guardians" ($3.00).

The message of the 'Space Man', in "We Come In Peace", also confirms by implication, if not explicitly, many of these basic ideas. It can hardly be said to add new information. As is so often the case, the encounter had no witnesses; yet the time is past, or should be, when this defect alone discredits the account. The first 33 pages contain an admirable summary of general conditions:

"First of all, why should we be alarmed or even surprised to learn that someone has done precisely what we have been hoping and planning to do as soon as we can?"-- (i.e., visiting other planets) (pg 8)

"The day is long past when a mere sighting is news. . . It is no longer necessary to establish the existence of the Discs before considering what happens when someone comes into close contact with them. . . " (11)

"We have the choice either to grasp the hand of the other-world helpers, or to carry on the deceptive business of the underworld of Lucifer". . . (quoted from Das Geistige Reich - pg. 13)

"All 'messages' are not from Mars or Venus or from 'Spacemen' just because one would like to think so, or even if the message says so. The possibilities for deception are legion" (21)

"What would happen if a Flying Saucer should land in a city or village - and supposing it is seen of all men?" - (The answer to this (pg 43) is obvious and should take care of this oft-repeated objection.

The quotations from Das Geistige Reich include references to the Lewetzow theory, that space is filled with an unknown type of ray coming from all directions. The BSR formerly published in ROUND ROBIN, and also as a separate brochure ($1.00) a translation of The Story Of The Aeroforms, by Karl Wichodil; this contains on pg 5 a summary of this Lewetzow theory. A few copies of this brochure are still available.

The quotation from Oberth (pg 17): "There is a substance which practically withdraws gravity from any object which it covers" comes in curious juxtaposition with our quote from HUNA BULLETIN 112 in this issue of "C.Q.C." (which refers to a 'paste of herbs'), and may not be unrelated to the remarks of the Mark Probert Controls concerning (a molecular rearrangement of such a nature that the molecules would present no surface to the action of gravity.!) The inside of an object is never accessible, (but only a new surface); are we certain that gravity acts on the in-side? and would a gravity screen need to be more than one molecule in thickness? (!!)

"Watch out for an unpredictable amount of atomic radiation from thousands of illicit sources", writes Mr. Thomas (pg 24). An absorption device against s a c h .

radiation, especially against the gamma rays, is a far more urgent need than a gravity screen. This maniacal enthusiasm to bring the 'atomic age' into full fruition overnight may yet write world's-end for everybody.

Mr. Thomas is not uncritical of the 'Martian' message. 'We all deplore war as he (the Martian) does'. The message is, in short, a bitter condemnation of human society and character, although the blame is placed upon our rulers and leaders. The anonymous reporter of the interview says that they, the Martians, 'have been coming here for a long time, but until lately have seen no way to help us; but now they foresee events which will fill us with wonder.' Just what these may be, we can only surmise - or perhaps turn to the "Master-M Apports" described on another page. One of these, however, will be "the-soon-to-be-realized visibility of astral forms" - and this (as Mr. Thomas points out) is already occurring.

"We Come In Peace" is thought-provoking, well-written, and as much or more worthwhile for what Mr. Thomas has to say than for the utterances of the Martian.

This is a partial list only. Complete lists issued from time to time, or sent on request. We seldom have more than one copy of each book and fill requests in order of their receipt. Associates who have books which they no longer need, especially in the field of BSR interests, can greatly help on BSR expenses by donating them to BSR Hdqrs., with permission to sell and apply proceeds for that purpose. If you do NOT wish your name listed among Donors, please include memo. to that effect. This help is an important item and we are very appreciative of the response from our Associates.

FIRE IMMUNITY THROUGH HERBS (from Bulletin of the Huna Research Associates,
May 1, '55. No. 112, pg 4.

Information on this subject "is requested by an Australian Associate, who sent a newspaper article stating that a holy man in the hills near the Himalayan border territory had been observed to stand naked and unharmed in a roaring fire built in a cave. The observer was a young Hindu" who obtained the names of several herbs which were made into a paste to give fire immunity when smeared over the body. This Hindu, having made the paste, "found by accident that when he had it on his hands he felt no electric shock from picking up a live wire.

"Later he found that X-ray pictures could not be taken through a layer of the paste. This suggested the possibility that radiation from atom-bombs might also be warddoff by the paste. The article said nothing of any tests of fire immunity by the young doctor, but stated that he had taken a quantity of the herbs to America and to Europe to demonstrate before scientific bodies and to get help in continuing his research. The name given was Swami Narayanand Saraswati."

(If any HR Associates, or BSR Associates come across information or reports bearing on this story, please inform HUNA or BSR Hdqrs.

(Fire immunity is of course a well-established phenomenon, especially in the case of fire-walking and in connection with certain types of mediumship - that of D.D. Home, for example. A full explanation, if obtainable, would probably show that the immunity depended on varying and different factors in different cases. But it is highly improbable (as Max Long points out) - or better, it is impossible - that the use of any 'paste' or other material stuff can by itself account for the immunity. Some very powerful factors of a 'psychic' or magical nature are certainly involved).

EXPOSE has a column reading: "This month the editor of Expose has in his possession a Top Secret document issued by the Committee on Chemical-Therapy of the National Advisory Cancer Council in cooperation with the American Cancer Society, the National Cancer Institute, and the Damon Runyon Fund. This document contains a warning on its front cover that 'the information contained herein is not for publication or publication reference.' This top secret Expose is prefaced by the following statement: "This program was inaugurated because of the conviction of the Committee that cures of many different kinds of cancer will be produced by research in this field" - i.e., by drugs."

They talk out of both sides of their mouths at once.

Frank Edwards is getting out a book: "My Last Ten Million Sponsors". Ballantine Books will publish at .35

SENATOR HALUSKA SPEECH: I take this occasion to recommend the publication of this speech in DEFENDER MAGAZINE of March 1955. It has now been printed separately as an 8-pg brochure, 10¢ a copy, 12 for $1.00. This is in support of the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic at Dallas, and once again presents a blistering indictment of the A.M.A., the A.C.S., and the D.R.Fund (referred to by corresp. H.M.G. above). It is not enough merely to read such material; we should circulate it as widely as possible, in the name of humanity. (DEFENDER MAGAZINE, Wichita, Kans.

"Some Successful Treatment Methods For Cancer" *

"One of the damning indictments of organized medicine before the Laws of God and humanity is that SUCCESSFUL CANCER CURES DO EXIST, yet organized medicine has fought tooth and nail against all persons who have presumed to cure cancer.

"Surely, if our medical associations were sincere in their desire to relieve mankind of this scourge, they would rush to inquire about any reported cure for cancer. They would be EAGER to report any such new methods to their suffering patients -- would they not if truly sincere and anxious to heal? Think this over in your own quiet mind. Now let's examine the record.

"Back in the 1920's a Detroit medical doctor and biochemist, Dr. William F. Koch, began to experiment with cancer. He found through brilliant experimental work that cancerous tissue seems to involve, among other things, a failure of oxidation. Over long years of experimentation he was able to evolve and synthesize certain chemicals termed OXIDATION CATALYSTS which were injected into the blood of many cancer patients caused relief, often cure.

"The Koch treatment worked in hundreds of cases. Case after case record piled up, and naturally the word got around. Organized medicine began to fight Dr. Koch with all the resources at its command, and finally hounded him to the point where he had to leave the country. Now he carries on his work in Rio De Janeiro, and is honored throughout Europe and South America for his brilliant discoveries. Only in his native land does he find such determined opposition.

"The Koch catalysts not only have cured numerous cases of cancer but other serious diseases as well. Dr. Koch seems to have developed a new approach to biochemistry and medical treatment; it would seem from their actions that organized medicine is afraid of being put out of business if the Koch methods become internationally known and successful. BUT IS HEALING A BUSINESS OR TRULY A PROFESSION? Is it not the traditional concern of physicians to heal the sick FIRST, and to think of monetary and personal considerations secondly? Which is most important: the saving of lives and cure of cancer, or the maintaining of special privileges and swollen incomes of one particular school of healers?

"Despite the bitter opposition of organized medicine there are hundreds of doctors in America today who do give the Koch treatment. If you wish information about this, and whether there is a physician using the Koch oxidation catalysts in your community, I am told you may write to Dr. Wendell G. Hendricks, 10481 Santa Monica Blvd., Los Angeles 25, California, U.S.A."

A Memorandum from Mr. Wing Anderson (Kosmon Press; 2206 W. 11th St. Los Angeles 6) informs us that he is "at work on a new book containing prophecies for the next few years", and asks . . . any of our readers who know of prophecies that look authentic to send them in. "I have some honey's I assure you", writes publisher Anderson; and I gather that most of them come under the classification of Gloom Guaranteed, and maybe even of Gloom Justified. The author has a reputation as a compiler of such material, so the line forms on both left and right, with reserve orders by mail not rejected.

The KOSMON PRESS (Wing Anderson) is also offering THE GATEWAY OF UNDERSTANDING, by Carl A. Wickland, M.D. (1934; 6th edition); 313 pgs., Price $4.00. More extended notice of this, later.

THE GREAT ACCIDENT:

In discussing Orfeo Angelucci's recent book The Secret of the Saucers, in the last issue of Clips & Quotes, I commented on the use of this phrase: I have since been reminded that Assoc. Edw. S. Schultz employed the same expression some two years ago; and also that it occurs in a somewhat cryptic booklet called "The Master M Aports" (sic) - stanza XIX of which reads:

A dancing horse shall harnessed be -- And smaller than a germ is he --
With breath so hot to burn the land -- He grows too strong to keep in hand--
And earth and sky and sea are rent -- The hour of the Great Accident

Presumably this refers to atomic energy and its getting out of control. And recently an English psychic or sensitive whose communications are being studied by the well-known investigator Harold Chibbett, (Lon.) has been predicting some 'accident' of catastrophic scope. Turning back now to the earlier remarks of our Assoc. E.S.S., they may be briefed as follows:

'That an atom-bomb test experiment in some country could get out of hand - BUT far more likely the Great Accident will be in some nuclear laboratory in an atomic accelerator, in which highly concentrated nuclear energies as high or far higher are experimented with (i.e., energies higher than the H-Bomb). One could almost predict about where the accident would take place, by finding where the nuclear accelerator of the greatest B-E-V is being built. One small experiment by a lone physicist in such a lab. may cause hell to break loose on a national, continental or world scale.'

NOTE: The "MASTER M APORTS" was written by Dr. John MacBeth, 2330 Beverly Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif., and put out by Science Press, 7018 Miles Ave., Huntington Park, Calif. price .50 Or address The Christian Community, 4878 $\frac{1}{2}$ Fountain Ave., Los Angeles 29, Calif. I have no information concerning the circumstances under which the "Aports" stanzas were received or composed - but they are at least interesting - especially the increasing use of the 'Great Accident' phrase.

And we also want to make belated acknowledgment to Assoc. Schultz for originating the very useful contractions: MAT and DEMAT. The word AEROFORMS is to be credited to Associates in England, and should be adopted into general use - since there is a real need for a generic term covering all of the varied forms of 'saucers', Discs, 'cigaros' (Australian), balloons, sausages and what-have-you.

AND MR. ANON FREES HIS MIND AGAIN: 'Concerning this business of the Vatican putting out a book on the "Saucers" -- It is plain that the R.C.C., not being able to refute or fight the space visitations has elected to scramble aboard the band wagon; i.e., to make "saucer" phenomena a tail to the Catholic kite. The book will probably reek with bible quotes and pious 'explanations' that explain nothing. . .

(No, 'Mr. Anon and the Editor are two and not one; not one but two).

Associates who have unneeded books (preferably in the field of BSR interests) - please do not forget how much such donations help out in meeting our publishing expenses. Give us permission to sell and to apply the proceeds to BSR activities - and be assured of our many thanks. (m.l.)

We have not forgotten our Personal Bulletin service. We are holding your envelopes against storm-and-stress weather, when they may be very useful indeed.

THE "MASTER M APPORTS" AGAIN: Since writing the paragraph on the preceding page, we are in receipt of a letter from Dr. John Macboth, which includes the following:

"These (Apports) were delivered, along with other material and some pencil drawings, during a very fine meditation, at 410 South Figueroa St., Los Angeles, just before the sinking of the Sharnhorst, late in 1943, to the best of my recollection.

"The verses were read to our full assembly a few days later, but were not printed until 1944. Several members still with us recall this first reading of the "Aports". (I do not know why a letter was left out of the spelling).

"When they were first read the verses did not make too deep an impression, but when world events began confirming them, their value could not be ignored.

"They were written in peculiar script on very thin paper. There was doubt in the reading of only three or four words, however.

"Without question they will take their place among the most remarkable prophetic utterances in history. They seem to indicate the presence of higher Intelligence, sympathetic, in some recondite sense, to the interests of humanity. Their cryptic nature has been objected to by some, but this is characteristic of many prophetic writings, notably those of Nostradamus, of the Bible, of the Oracles of Delphi and Dodona and others - and good reasons can be cited for this circumstance.

"You are at liberty to quote, for any good it may bring to anyone, as many as eight or ten stanzas of your own selection, with interpretation or comments.

"The APPORTS, at 50¢ per copy, can be ordered from CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY, 4878 $\frac{1}{2}$ FOUNTAIN AVE., Los Angeles 29, Calif. There is nothing confidential in this letter and you may use or reproduce any part or all of it."

In addition to Stanza 19, quoted on preceding page, we have space here for one or two more: (Nos. 13 -20 -21)

- (13): Evolved they in far-off halls - Who see through stone and metal walls - Across the leagues they see and hear - The life on many a distant sphere - With lightning speed and hollow prow - They skim the vasty azure now.
- (20): When rolling fog with death doth glow - The Western skies shall Karma know - When lurid lights the Western mist - No breathing creature can exist - And giant tubes do open sail - Delivering death with mourning wail
- (21): From out the heavens gleaming rain - Doth turn to spectres walking men - And people phosphorescent go - And streets and houses misty glow - The winds a lethal burden bear - That withers all the verdure fair.

Stanza 13 may refer to television, interplanetary ships, space ships and many things related to the present visitation of the Aeroforms.

Stanzas 20 - 21 (also 22, not quoted) apparently refer to future devastation. There are 25 stanzas, either four or six lines each, with two pages of prose at the end; also two pages of Suggestions (for interpretation) - which include what has just been said about 13-20-21-22. I assume from such information as is given, that these written sheets "on very thin paper" were actual Apports and were NOT dictated, or 'precipitated' (slate writing).

MEMORANDUM TO PHYSICISTS:

Associate Lindy Millard, by reasoning from electrical analogues, has made a rigorous mathematical derivation of the following generalized basic formula for the ether itself where optical waves are being propagated:

$$\text{FREQUENCY AT RESONANCE} = \frac{V}{K \times \sqrt{\text{PRESSURE} \times \text{MASS-DENSITY}}}$$

Here K is a constant that may depend on the material substance saturated with the ether. The important conclusion is: that frequency depends on the INVERSE square root of mass-density of the ether itself.

Karl F. Krafft has now broken into print with an English language edition of his latest highly convincing book: The Ether and its Vortices. Every engineer who is trying to fathom the aeroforms mathematically must have handy a correct concept of the ether (at least that ether which is dynamically modified to create our physical plane of being). All the ethers, except the Koilon-Fohat absolute ether some 49 planes remote from us (seq. Hilliard), must be of a similar hydrodynamic or aerodynamic nature, with some properties in common. A cloth-bound edition of The Ether & its Vortices will soon be in every university library, perhaps in some public libraries as well. One thousand paper bound copies will also be printed.

(Memo. from Assoc.
Lindy Millard.

(Note by M.L.:

Since 1937 Assoc. Lindy Millard has worked in collaboration with physicist Carl F. Krafft on developments of the ether-vortex model of the atom.

(While the matter is more technical than usually appears in Clips & Quotes, it is of such importance to an understanding of the Aeroforms that we take this first opportunity of presenting it, but shall probably reprint the equation in Round Robin of June 1, '55)

Excerpts from letter: (Addison O'Neill, D.O., (Fla.) to Rev. L.C. LeVan (Pa.))--

"Reverend Sir: I have your kind letter of the 24th, and I appreciate it very much. . . To those who so glibly say that the Hoxsey method has been discredited, I would ask, by whom? The best refutation of Hoxsey's challenge: "I challenge the federal government, the county and state governments, the American Medical Association, or any recognized group to come to the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic, and if I fail to prove we have cured the most deadly types of cancer after radium, x-ray, and surgery have failed, I will donate $25,000.00 to any charitable organization and close the doors of the Clinic forever." So far, after several years, there have been no takers.

"I have known Dr. William F. Koch for 20 years, and correspond with him regularly while he is in Brazil. I am familiar with his anti-cancer products. I am familiar with the Hoxsey medicines and the Drosnes-Lazenby Cancer Clinic in your city. Lately I have contacted a doctor in Mexico who has formulae for effectively treating cancer, and he has very kindly consented for me to have two of his formulae made up and I am now using the same with considerable encouragement.

"Am also familiar with the Dr. Hett treatment of Windsor, Canada. . ."

(signed)- A. O'N."

Rev. Verne L. Cameron, inventor of the Aurameter, writes

RR in part: "I was delighted with the article about Omar MacDonald and the Aurameter (in RR x-6). Some years ago he took it to Denver and located a new oil field; $\frac{1}{2}$ x 7 miles in extent. Later, the owner of the property had me check on it, and I found it exactly as Omar had, without knowing any of the details of his prior survey. That field and others have been drilled and are now producing.

"Another interesting item I have: When my 16-year old son Larry returned recently from his Easter vacation, he brought with him half of a mummified rattlesnake which he and a friend, Frank Fisher, had put under a large home-made (wooden) pyramid. It had mummified perfectly and Larry was picking off chunks of it and eating it. It was perfectly fresh and had absolutely no odor. Frank has done many stunts of preservation since he and Larry began making pyramids a couple of years ago. . ."

In connection with the last item above, I quote briefly from RADIO-PERCEPTION, The Journal of the British Society of Dowsters; article Nothing New Under the Sun, pg 139 ff.

"Hollow models of the Great Pyramid of Cheops made in exact proportions to the original are pieces of apparatus familiar to most Radiesthetists today. These will mummify or dehydrate organic substances which would normally putrify in the same period, if these are placed within the structure while the sides are oriented exactly North/South. Such substances, fruit, meat, fish etc. are placed in the interior at about one-third of the height from the base ("King's Chamber").

"These models have been used experimentally to sharpen razor blades, act as bacteriacides, for the charging of cotton wool with energy " (and in medical experiments etc). 'The source of energy has not yet been identified or correlated . . . The basic principle resides in the precise form. The mass or material of the pyramid is unimportant . . . There are a number of other methods which also produce the dehydration effect...' (pg 140).

BSR Publications formerly called attention to these peculiar "waves of form", the study of which opens up an entire world of novel investigation. The magazine here quoted, RADIO-PERCEPTION, is indispensable for anyone seriously interested. Published quarterly by the Society of Dowsters, at York House, Portugal St., W.C. 2, Lon., Eng. Copy, 3/- (about .60).
